Natural Gas Pipeline Struck Northeast of Bellingham

For Immediate Release:

Bellingham, WA – July 11, 2001: About 15 residential Cascade Natural Gas customers on Glengary Drive and James Street Road in northeast Bellingham were evacuated after a contractor struck and broke a connection on an 8-inch natural gas pipeline that feeds the Bellingham area. No injuries were reported.

Cascade Natural Gas employees repaired the line at 10:55AM after gas company and emergency officials secured the area. Residents have now been allowed to return to their homes and service will be restored later today.

The pipeline was struck by a contractor working at the scene at about 8:45 AM.
